Huber Model III Tenor in Cherrywood. A= 440

Huber premium-quality Swiss-made instruments are superior in quality of wood, workmanship, appearance, and performance to most other recorders currently available. These instruments have a bright, clear, well-focused tone and extremely fast and clean response that renders them well-suited to solo playing, although the softer woods are also well-suited for ensemble use.

The keyless tenor recorders are easily the most ergonomic tenor instruments available from any maker. Huber recorders feature a unique upper foot section with a bulbous feature that in tenors makes them particularly easy to play without stretching and discomfort. Comes with an elegant zippered hard case.

This recorder lists at $865 at Antique Sound Workshop <http://www.aswltld.com/huber.htm> and is being offered at $500 plus shipping and handling.
